OUR STORY

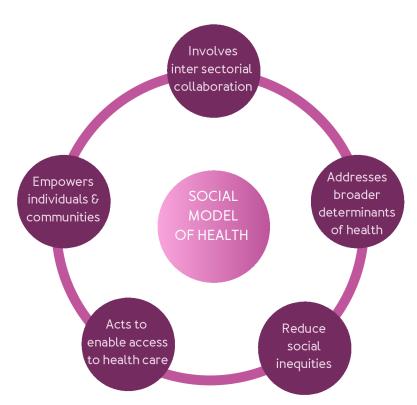

Hedland Well Women's Centre (HWWC) has a long-standing reputation for providing quality, impactful and dynamic health and wellbeing services to thousands of women in the Hedland area.

Established in 1991, the Centre is an integral part of the town's social fabric, playing a pivotal role in providing a safe and welcoming platform for women seeking to access a range of unique and imperative services from a professional, multi-disciplinary health team.

HWWC is a community-based, not-for-profit organisation that offers free clinical services, mental health support, social connection programs, and health promotion to positively impact the health and wellbeing of the community.

At HWWC, we are dedicated to empowering and connecting the community.

Services are based on a social model of health and are informed by data, research and community feedback.

OUR MISSION

To provide a comprehensive health and support launchpad connecting women to services that meet their evolving needs. We aim to improve the health and wellbeing of women by providing accessible and inclusive services with a key focus on health promotion activities. Our legacy of connecting women strengthens the social fabric of our community.

OUR IMPACT

HWWC strives to empower women to have control over their physical health, mental health and wellbeing.

The Centre is the only holistic health service in the Hedland area operating a social model of health fostered by the World Health Organisation.

HWWC addresses key community issues including:

- Ol Social isolation and mental health
- Gender-based inequities that contribute to poor health outcomes for women
- Gaps in services for mental health and women's healthcare
- O4 Gender diversity in the workforce.

HISTORY OF PINK PILBARA BREAKFAST

Since 1999, HWWC has hosted an annual community fundraising event in support of cancer. After identifying a growing need for further on-the-ground support and services in Hedland, HWWC introduced an inhouse Cancer Support Service in October 2020.

In 2024, the generosity of the Hedland and Pilbara community raised $150,000. These funds are being used to directly support this critical local service.

The ongoing success of the Pink Pilbara Breakfast is made possible through the generosity, compassion and support of the incredible Hedland community. HWWC is committed to seeing this project continue to improve the lives of women in the region.

VALUE OF YOUR SPONSORSHIP

People living in rural and remote areas are 20 to 30 per cent more likely to die within five years of a cancer diagnosis than those in metropolitan areas.

In the Pilbara, low participation rates are reported for bowel (23%), breast (30%) and cervical (31%) cancer screening processes.

Cancer Prevention and Support Services

The uptake of and need for these services continue to rise annually. As HWWC transitions to a sustainable funding model, we invite you to join us to uplift and empower the Port Hedland community. This year, all money raised from sponsorship and donations will support two principal purposes:

- Primary healthcare the continuation of HWWC's clinical and health promotion programs that aim to prevent women's cancers including lifesaving screening, education and upskilling.
- Secondary healthcare the continuation of HWWC's clinical Cancer Support Services for local women who have been diagnosed with or are connected to cancer.
